Ubuntu Education Fund is a nonprofit organization that provides world-class health, household stability, and educational support to orphaned and vulnerable children in Port Elizabeth, South Africa. Our mission is simple, all-encompassing, yet radical: to help raise township children by providing them what all children deserve—everything.

Dear Friends,

Over the past eighteen years, Ubuntu has grown from an idea born in a broom closet to the global standard for community development. Today, the Ubuntu Model is internationally recognized as a powerful blueprint for sustainable change. From day one, we have dedicated ourselves to building an interconnected web of essential services that provide our children everything they need—every day. Vision 2020, launched in 2016, is an ambitious expansion plan that will expand our campus, deepen our impact, and amplify our model.

In 2016, we secured the capital to begin campus construction and expand our programming. We have partnered with African School for Excellence to create a high-performing primary school for our Early Childhood Development program graduates. This move will allow us to complete our cradle-to-career pathway out of poverty and guide hundreds of disadvantaged students toward university and financial stability.

The Ubuntu Centre is evolving into the Ubuntu Campus, a place where we can provide each child personalized and continuous support at every step of her life. Most importantly, our plan will ensure that Ubuntu, now an integral part of the fabric of Zwide Township, stands the test of time and continues to transform lives for generations.

Thank you for helping us realize our vision.

Jacob Lief
Founder & CEO

Malizole Banks Gwaxula
Founder & Senior Advisor

The Ubuntu Centre embodies our belief that access to world-class healthcare and education is a right, not a privilege. At our state-of-the-art facility, South Africa’s most vulnerable children receive everything they need to realize their potential—every day.
The Townships of Port Elizabeth are home to the most impoverished communities in South Africa. With high rates of HIV, unemployment, and the absence of opportunities, families face deep-rooted barriers to healthy and stable lives.

- Highest infant mortality rate in South Africa
- 78% of children live in poverty
- 1 in 3 people is HIV-positive
- 80% of youth are unemployed
- 40% of students do not graduate from high school

The Ubuntu Model is a grassroots innovation that revolutionizes conventional development models and yields global dividends.

Building a sustainable institution
Invest in people and a Centre that inspires the highest standard

Based in the community
Listen to the townships’ needs and utilize resources through strategic partnerships

Impact through depth
Produce lasting change through significant and focused investment

Cradle to career programs
Create individualized pathways to meet each client’s household, health, and educational needs

“Ubuntu gave me hope at a time when I felt lost. The dedicated team ensured I had all the support I needed to care for my baby.”

Every ultrasound
Every doctor’s visit
Every immunization
Every parenting class

Everything. Everyday.
It’s natural for a mother to want to give her baby everything, but when she doesn’t have the means, that duty is daunting. Will my child be healthy? How will I feed him, keep him safe, or send him to school? Fortunately, Nomthandazo wasn’t alone. At Ubuntu, she found a support group of mothers who, like her, refused to let their circumstances define the lives of their children. With caseworkers and a medical team caring for her every step of the pregnancy, Nomthandazo gave birth to a healthy baby boy, Likhonco. In a few years, he will follow in the footsteps of his older brother and join Ubuntu’s Early Childhood Development program. From checkups to quality education, he will have everything he needs, so that Nomthandazo can focus on raising two bright young men.

“I never saw myself as a leader, but when Ubuntu gave me the courage to tell my story, I discovered I had the power to inspire.”
Tisetso came to Ubuntu shy and reluctant to share his struggles. The new friends and mentors he met at Ubuntu’s after-school program helped him finally feel like he belonged and find his voice. He discovered a passion for public speaking and was elected leader of his student body. Inspired by the strength of those around him, he gained the confidence to face his challenges. He began to understand his mother’s struggle with HIV, and their relationship blossomed. His five-year-old niece found a safe space to learn and play at the Centre, easing the burden on his sister. Knowing that his family has every opportunity to build a stable life, Tisetso can prepare for university and becoming a strong leader in his community.
“Ubuntu gave me what I needed to succeed. Now as a teacher, I’m handing everything I learned down to the next generation.”

Everything. Everyday.

Every interview
Every mentorship
Every job application
Every training program
Like most young people, Noluvuyo was told that hard work leads to success. For those growing up in the shadow of failing township schools, however, ambition is rarely enough. When every door seemed closed, Ubuntu promised opportunity. Years of academic support and a full scholarship empowered Noluvuyo to pioneer her own path. After graduating from university, her longing to see change in the community brought her home to Ubuntu—this time as a teacher. Ubuntu’s staff leadership initiative offered her professional growth and personalized mentorship. Today, she provides for her family like the hundreds of alumni who have discovered rewarding careers through Ubuntu’s job-readiness or university scholars program. As one of our most promising educators, Noluvuyo spends every day providing toddlers with a strong foundation and shaping the future of South Africa’s next generation.
VISION 2020 is Ubuntu’s bold five-year plan to expand our campus in Port Elizabeth and amplify our transformative model around the world.

Progress Update

In 2016, we launched the expansion of our early childhood development and vocational training programs and secured the funding to break ground on our campus expansion, which will:

- Double classroom hours and increase the number of toddlers in school by 40%
- Place 750 students into meaningful employment

Next Steps

In 2017, we will partner with African School for Excellence to create a high-achieving primary school, providing:

- Daily instruction in an academically challenging environment for 240 Ubuntu children
- A continuum of world-class educational support resulting in a 100% high school graduate rate

Expand

Ubuntu’s Early Childhood Development program

Increase

the capacity and efficiency of Ubuntu’s pediatric clinic

Build

a world-class vocational training centre

Partner

with a high-achieving primary school

Establish

an institutional stability fund to ensure long-term impact and drive innovation

Create

the Ubuntu Institute to help others achieve sustainable change in their communities

Ubuntu’s Award-Winning Galas
Our annual galas celebrated the spirit of ubuntu in three continents. The legendary Hugh Masekela led the party at our inaugural Johannesburg Gala chaired by Nomkhita Nqweni and Ciko & Kholisa Thomas. Hundreds gathered in South Africa, London, and New York City to support Ubuntu’s life-changing work, and raised over $2 million.

Ubuntu Social Community
From New York City to London to Los Angeles, the Ubuntu Social Community took the lead in partying with a purpose. Our dedicated host committees helped us raise over $120,000. Special thanks to our chairs and leaders: Sean Abramson, Alexander Bank, Josefina Elfner & Paulo Eapen, David Fisher, Adam Mirels, Erica Rabinowitz, Deborah & Brandon Shainfeld, and Therese Wallin & Leopold Cronstedt Colt.

Ubuntu Clubs
Student-led Ubuntu Clubs at Abercorn School, The American School in London, Bucknell University, and Columbia High School organized numerous fundraisers, events, and social media campaigns in support of our mission. A group of sixteen students from The American School in London visited the Ubuntu Centre in Port Elizabeth on a week-long global services trip.

Changing the Conversation

Ubuntu Podcasts
Following the success of Jacob Lief’s podcast, Philanthropy Unfiltered, produced in collaboration with University of Pennsylvania’s Center for High Impact Philanthropy, Ubuntu launched a new series, Failures from the Field. Hosted by Chief External Relations Officer Jordan Levy, this series dives deep into some of the most pervasive problems facing international development with prominent thought leaders like Chelsea Clinton, Reverend Jesse Jackson, and Pierre Ferrari.

Ubuntu Founder & CEO Jacob Lief appeared in Fortune’s 2016 40 Under 40 annual ranking of the most influential young people in business.

Ubuntu launched Vision 2020 in front of more than 2,000 world leaders at the Clinton Global Initiative 2016 Annual Meeting in New York City.

Small Contributions, Big Impact

Ubuntu’s grassroots funding grew significantly this past year, around the world. Thanks to everyone who attended an event, held a bake sale, or responded to an email appeal. These funds will help us bring transformative opportunities to our community, from cradle to career.

All of our donations have a proven long-term impact on the future of Port Elizabeth and the children we serve. Every $1 invested in Ubuntu scholars yields a real lifetime earning increase of $8.70.

1,230 Grassroots donors (gifts under $1,000)

$230,679 Total raised

$187 Average one-time donation

$1 investment in Ubuntu Child

$8.70 increased client lifetime earnings and $2.20 net gain to society

*This figure comes from an independent study conducted by McKinsey & Company and relies on independent data from a number of reputable sources like the World Health Organization, USAID, government institutions like the Department of Education, and the firm’s own independent analysis.
In-Kind Donors

Ubuntu is grateful to those who donated their time or resources to support our vital work in Port Elizabeth. These contributions have allowed us to fundraise effectively, provide quality materials, and focus our attention on addressing the needs of our community.
